is, by no means, the dreadful disease it is thought to be—in the beginning.

It can always be stopped—in the beginning. The trouble is: you don't know you've got it; you don't believe it; you won't believe it till you are forced to. Then it is dangerous.

Don't be afraid; but attend to it quick—you can do it yourself and at home.

Every teacher should arrange to be there it will be both interesting and profitable; if the teachers desire it to be otherwise it will be a failure. PETTIT AND WEAVER

Heard by 1,000 Citizens at the Fair Ground Tuesday.

Imperialism the Cry—Free Silver and the Chicago Convention Relics of the Past.

DEMOCRATS DISAPPOINTED

Tuesday at 1 p. m. the procession, of Democrats and apostate Populists, from Beaver Dam reached Hartford, all told there were 155. The procession was headed by the Render Cornet Band. At 2 o'clock 1,000 people had assembled at the Fair Ground to hear the recently regenerated Populists. Tom Pettit, the noted renegade Populist, now a subsidized, Goebelized, Bryanized professional calamity breeder, introduced Gen. Weaver in a very brief speech. Among other things he said, "The issue is as wide as the space which marks the distance between hell and heaven," but Mr. Pettit never once named the issue and the audience was at a loss to know whether it was imperialism or free silver, or free trade or income tax. So many are the issues of the Democratic party that an audience is at a loss to know just what issue is foremost these days until the speaker has announced what he thinks to be the most important. When Mr. Pettit had subsided General Weaver took the stage and acknowledged his thanks to be privileged to speak to a Kentucky audience, when he concluded his introductory of thanks, he laid down the premises for his argument in these words: "NOW it is imperialism, four years ago it was silverism with the adjective free attached.

The speaker discussed at length the bible and declared that the devil was an imperialist which all may concede for argument sake if it would prove anything. But the devil is not a candidate just now for any office that anyone knows of. General Weaver's discourse on the bible and Declaration of Independence was very good. He was very kind and pleasant in his reference to the Republicans throughout his argument which was a very commendable feature of the old gentleman.

He dwelt at length on the subject of liberty and the contest of the governed, evidently forgetting that he was talking to a people that had no more to say in their government than the criminals in the penitentiary. Liberty is a precious subject to liberty loving people, but it is a pretty hard subject for a Democrat to discuss in Kentucky, especially at this time.

The speaker declared that he joined the Democratic party because it was a party of freedom. Well, general, in Kentucky, the Democratic party will not submit to the majority rule, it won't acquiesce in defeat and you should have known this before you came here.

How singular it is for men (Democrats) to talk freedom when they have their neighbor by the throat choking his very life out, yet these brazen demagogues down here in Kentucky can make more noise about equal rights to all and exclusive privileges to none than imaginable. These mush-mouth politicians, such as Weaver, Pettit and others who talk of liberty in Kentucky from a Democratic platform view, only make themselves ridiculous in the sight of honest men.

When the old general grounded and declared his intention to conclude, there were cries of, go ahead, but in choosing to defend Beckham in his outrages and stopping, he chose the latter, to the surprise and discomfort of his Democratic hearers.

It is considered very discourteous for a man to enter upon a political tour through a state in which there is a candidate for Governor and to absolutely ignore him, but this is what Mr. Beckham got at the hands of one, General Jas. B. Weaver at the Fair Grounds Tuesday.

A Trip to Mexico.

Amarillo, Tex., Oct. 4, 1900.

Editor REPUBLICAN:

I left my home at McHenry, Ky., June 28, in answer to a telegram from my friend, Mr. T. A. Eaton, to come to Doniphan, Mo., to accompany his son, Mr. Thad Eaton, to New Mexico, overland, for his health, as he is suffering with lung trouble. On the 30th of June we bade farewell to friends at Doniphan and started on our long journey. I must say we had a fine team of mules, a camping wagon with all modern conveniences, and a tent also. Our wagon has two water kegs attached to the sides, stove in the front room to keep the sick comfortable and the kitchen is attached to the rear and when the door opens it is hung so as to make our table, which is supplied with the best the market affords.

For five days Mr. Thad's father traveled with us; at Oland, Mo., he took the train back for Doniphan. We passed through some rough country before reaching Springfield, Mo. We traversed the beautiful Ozark and on to Chanute, Kan. Here Mr. Thad relapsed and we telegraphed for his family; we remained a week here and then on to McPherson, Kan., reaching there the 1st of August. Here is a fine stock country and fine farming land. In the wheat belt we saw twenty-two engines at one time at work on to Colorado and follow the Cimarron river for 150 miles and then into Oklahoma. Kenton, Okla., is reached August 22d, and then we cross the New Mexico line and traveled six miles to a beautiful ranch home owned by Mr. Bontz, brother in law of Mr. Eaton. Here we share their hospitalities, but far from restoring health to my friend.

We are 600 feet above the sea level; the latitude is high for him. After a three weeks stay we retraced our steps, and the 13th of September we started for San Antonio, Tex. We arrived at Liberal, Kan., the 19th of September, and reached Amarillo, Tex., the 4th of October. We had great difficulty in crossing the Canadian river for the quick sand.

By referring to your map you will find we are in need of our water kegs now, as we travel some days all day and never see a residence or drop of water, only what we have with us.

Yours truly,
CLAYTON WOODWARD.

HORSE BRANCH REPUBLICANS ELATED.

Judge Wells, of Leitchfield, Engages Ben D. Ringo in a Mental Combat and Renders His Antagonist Hors de Combat.

Horse Branch, Oct. 6, 1900.

Hartford REPUBLICAN—Judge Wells, of Leitchfield, filled Dr. E. M. Berry's appointment here yesterday. This was a Republican appointment and the Democrats brought Mr. Ben D. Ringo, the champion Democrat of Ohio county, here to speak against Judge Wells. There was about one hundred voters present, of whom about one-third were Democrats. Mr. Ringo brought his bible and the Kentucky Statutes along to answer Dr. Berry, or Judge Wells, as it turned out to be, and we wish to say that Mr. Ringo needed a few more books and two or three other men also to help him out of the snap.

Judge Wells was introduced by Mr. Henry Leach and at once took up the issues of the campaign. He began by taking up the Goebel law and traced it from its foundation down to the present, showing by the force of plain, sound reasoning that all the trouble in Kentucky for the last twelve months was due to that law. He dealt with the primaries in Louisville, the Music Hall convention, the contest and showed beyond a doubt to any reasonable man, where the trouble was. He advised the people to vote for John W. Yerkes and Jolly—paid a handsome tribute to William McKinley and the Republican administration. Judge Wells urged the people to place their votes where they would count the most for civil liberty; a right to vote and have that vote counted as cast.

After showing his audience his law books and bible, Mr. Ringo began by calling all the Republicans in Frankfort dogs, murderers and highwaymen, saying that ex-Governor Bradley was worse than Jesse James ever was—said that Mr. Bradley came to Louisville with the militia and two gatling guns, here flourishing cartridges for same. He also said that the soldiers dragged these guns through the streets in that city all day and that actually nine thousand Democrats were intimidated thereby. He failed to touch a single national issue, his whole speech being a weak defense of the Goebel election law, and the rotten judiciary of Franklin and Scott counties. Now, Mr. Editor, there never was a sicker set of Democrats in Ohio county than was in Horse Branch after Judge Wells's reply. They simply wished that they were back at Horton and White Run.

Yours, J. L.

The best that money can buy should be your aim in choosing a medicine, and this is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cures when others fail.

O—J—C

When a preparation has an advertised reputation that is world-wide, it means that preparation is meritorious. If you go into a store to buy an article that has achieved universal popularity like Cascarets Candy Cathartic for example, you feel it has the endorsement of the world. The judgment of the people is infallible because it is impersonal. The retailer who wants to sell you "something else" in place of the article you ask for, has an ax to grind. Don't it stand to reason? He's trying to sell something that is not what he represents it to be. Why? Because he expects to derive an extra profit out of your credulity. Are you easy? Don't you see through his little game? The man who will try and sell you a substitute for CASCARETS is a fraud. Beware of him! He is trying to steal the honestly earned benefits of a reputation which another business man has paid for, and if his conscience will allow him to go so far, he will go farther. If he cheats his customer in one way, he will in another and it is not safe to do business with him. Beware of the CASCARET substitute! Remember CASCARETS are never sold in bulk but in metal boxes with the long tailed "C" on every box and each tablet stamped C. C.
